DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to applicant's reply filed 8 May 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 9-11 and 24 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sassa et al. (previously cited US 5,862,167).

Regarding claims 9 and 24, Sassa discloses a semiconductor device comprising a single crystal substrate 1 made of a material other than nitride III-V semiconductors, a device 3,4,5,6 formed on a major surface of said substrate 1 using III-V compound semiconductors, wherein an electrical connection is made directly by electrode 40 to said device through a via hole in said substrate 1 (see Fig. 4 and discussion thereof).

Regarding claim 10, the substrate 1 is a sapphire substrate.

Regarding claim 11, the device is a semiconductor laser using nitride III-V semiconductor materials.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sassa. Sassa discloses the limitations of the claims as shown above, but does not disclose that the device is a FET. However, FETs are well known as being formed on substrates. The present invention concerns the device being formed on substrate where an electrical connection is made to the device through a via hole in the substrate. The type of device used is not critical. Since it is well known to form a FET on a substrate, and a FET should have some sort of electrical connection made thereto, then it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to make use a FET as the device in place of the laser of Sassa by way of obvious engineering design choice.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
